Online Education

1. Does all programs/courses were completed on time.	Yes
2. Measures taken to complete the syllabus of courses and programs.	Even in the Covid-19 pandemic, the teachers have not forsaken their primary responsibility to the students which is a continuity in their education with the same exacting standards. For this teachers had adopted steps so that, no student can afford a gap in education at this time. (With the lockdown suspending classes at all schools, colleges and universities, the annual academic calendar has been hit hard, especially as the March-April period signifies the crucial tail end of an academic session and this is also the time for roll outs for the new session.) Here's how colleges are dealing with the Covid-19 pandemic. 1. Online virtual classes Teachers have instantly turned to conducting virtual classes, online assignment submissions and teacher-student interactions. Access to technology and faculty determination is contributing to the success of this redefined classroom setting which will make sure that students are able to adhere to their academic calendar without any interruption. Admittedly, there is some degree of inconvenience in terms of all students having access to proper hardware, software and adequate internet connections; but this has also prompted new examples in educational innovation and digitalization. (Safe admission processes conducted online) To ensure the safety of prospective students, parents and their staff, these institutes have adopted a range of online virtual methodologies to facilitate the entire admission process. They have categorized the process of the admission procedure and implemented online solutions for each of this sub process. We conducted webinars for sharing information on programs, video calls one-to-one interactions, and virtual campus tours to showcase the campus life and facilities available. E-applications are being accepted from candidates desirous of applying for these programs followed by virtual interviews. The results are declared online and the fees payment and other admission formalities are also completed online.) What students can do to utilize the lockdown time well with less activities to distract them, students can put this Covid-19 lockdown period to good use. They should: Here's how colleges are dealing with the covid-19 pandemic. 1. Online virtual classes at colleges are now being conducted online. Access to technology and faculty determination is contributing to the success of this redefined classroom setting which will make sure that students are able to adhere to their academic calendar without any interruption.
