

SEMINAR

In association with Department of Microbiology a seminar was arranged on Horticulture Techniques on 24-12-2014.

Resource Person: Dr. P. Ashok, Scientist (Horti) AICRP on tuber crops, Horticultural Research Station, Dr.Y.S.R Horticultural University, Venkataramana Gudem.

Description of the Program:

The Resource Person explained about the importance of Horticulture and Tissue culture in agricultural practices. Horticulture is the cultivation of flowers, fruits and vegetable yielding plants and ornamental plants.

He also explained the cultivation, processing, sale of fruits, nuts, vegetables, and ornamental plants as well as many additional services. He also enlightened the students on plant conservation, landscaping, restoration, soil management, garden designing, construction and maintenance.

